LAWS OF HAMILTON COLLEGE.

CHAPTER I.

OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE COLLEGE.

§ 1. The Government of the College is vested in the President, Professors and Tutors, and is styled the Faculty of the College.

§ 2. A regular meeting of the Faculty is held on Thursday morning of each week. The President at his discretion, has authority to appoint a special meeting. All matters to be referred to the Faculty, shall be brought before such meetings, and be determined by the major part of the members present.

CHAPTER II.

OF ADMISSION INTO COLLEGE.

§ 1. No person shall be admitted to the Freshman Class, until he has completed his fourteenth year; nor to an advanced standing, without a proportionate increase of age. The terms for admission into this Class, will be found from time to time on the College Catalogue.

§ 2. No candidate for advanced standing shall be received, unless he shall be found qualified in the studies pursued by the class which he proposes to join, or in branches equivalent thereto. No one shall be admitted to the Senior Class after the close of the Winter Vacation.

§ 3. The under-graduate Students are divided into four classes. The first year, they shall be called Freshmen; the second, Sophomores; the third, Juniors, and the fourth, Seniors.

CHAPTER III.

OF DAILY ATTENDANCE IN THE CHAPEL, AND UPON PUBLIC WORSHIP.

§ 1. Every under-graduate is required to attend morning and evening prayers, unless he can render a reasonable excuse for his absence.

§ 2. Every Student is required to attend public worship in the chapel, on the Sabbath, unless excused in compliance with a written request from his parent or guardian, for one of the following reasons;

1st. That he lives in or near the town of Kirkland, and is therefore expected to spend the Sabbath with his friends at home.

2d. That he is connected with some other denomination than that of the College Church, and desires to attend its place of worship in the village of Clinton.

3d. That his services are desired in teaching a Bible Class, or Sabbath School Class, at such hours as preclude attendance at the College Chapel.

§ 4th. Whenever such an application shall be made, a letter shall be addressed to the parent or guardian of the Student, stating the arrangements of the College authorities in regard to public worship, and the general undesirableness of making exceptions to the usual rule, unless there be cogent reasons for the same.

CHAPTER IV.

OF THE COLLEGE EXAMINATIONS.

§ 1. There are four regular examinations during the year; one at the close of each term, and a final examination for the Seniors during the eighth week of the third term. Each examination embraces the studies of the term during which it is held, except the examination at the close of the Senior year, which includes the studies of the entire year.

§ 2. Each Student is required to pass all the examinations, and unless excused by a special vote of the Faculty, is expected to be prepared on every portion of the studies embraced in the examination of the class to which he belongs. All text books are excluded from the examination room, except those necessarily used by the Student while under examination. The order of examination as to persons, is determined by lot, to be publicly drawn in the examination room.

§ 3. Delinquents at any regular examination, having been excused from attending the same, are assigned a separate session for their examination on the delinquent studies, immediately previous to the next regular examination.

§ 4. Any delinquent in actual attendance, who fails without assigning a reason, to attend delinquent examination, shall be charged ten marks on the record, and his examination shall be marked on the merit roll as a failure.

§ 5. No Student shall be dismissed from College without a certificate from the Registrar, that he has passed his examinations, unless by a special vote of the Faculty, and a certificate from the Treasurer that his College bills are paid, or satisfactorily secured.

CHAPTER V.

OF THE MERIT ROLL.

In estimating the scholarship of the Students, and determining their standing in their respective classes, the following rules are observed :

1st. The numerical value of each recitation is estimated by a Scale, on which 10 stands for a perfect recitation, 9 for one nearly perfect, and so on down to a cypher which expresses an entire failure.

2d. The sum of the figures thus given to each Student for the year, divided by the number of exercises, gives his average standing for the year. In making the average, absences which are unexcused, enter into the divisor, and thus lower the standing of the Student. The result is recorded on the College books. The sum of all the Credits given to any Student during the College course, divided by the whole number of exercises, expresses his final College standing.

3d. Certain exercises are regarded as having more weight than a single recitation. These are as follows :

1. Declamation in chapel is equivalent to ten Recitations.

2. A Class Composition or Debate is equivalent to five Recitations.

3. A Chapel Composition is equivalent to ten Recitations.

4. A Report of a Sermon is equivalent to two Recitations.

5. A Chapel Oration is equivalent to fifteen Recitations.

In case of Chapel Compositions and Essays, where the Student has performed all the exercises assigned to him for any year, his regularity shall be counted as ten additional Recitations. Any delinquency in Chapel Compositions or Orations, whether excused or not, shall be regarded on the Merit Roll as a failure, without a special vote of the Faculty to the contrary. An appointment as Prize Speaker shall be equivalent to twenty Recitations, marked ten each. Performance at Junior Exhibition is equivalent to thirty Recitations. Each examination in any study, is regarded as equal to ten Recitations.

5. Work done in competition for any one of the College Prizes shall be equivalent to twenty Recitations, unless its numerical value falls below eight, in which case no estimate shall be placed on record.

5th. At the close of the Senior year of each class, a graduated scale of College standing is given out, according to which the class is divided into three divisions, as follows :

All whose standing is seven and a half or above, belong to the first class, and are regarded as of the first grade of scholarship. All who come up to five, but are below seven and a half, constitute the second class, and belong to the second grade of scholarship. All below five belong to the third class, and are of the third grade of scholarship.

Those belonging to the first two divisions, are expected to take part in the exercises of commencement day. The third class is excluded from participating in those exercises.

6th. Upon the standing thus made up, a system of College honors is based. All in the second division, shall receive an appointment for Commencement day, termed a Dissertation, and shall be arranged, as far as may be, alphabetically in their divisions.

Those in the first division, with the exceptions hereinafter stated, shall receive appointments termed Disputes, High Orations, Orations, and the two latter shall be arranged alphabetically.

From those holding the highest rank in the first division, the Faculty may in their discretion, select a certain number, who shall receive appointments termed Honors. These appointments shall be regarded as equal in rank, with the exception of the Valedictory and Salutatory, which shall be considered as the first and second appointments, and shall be given to the first and second scholars in the class. In order to recognize peculiar excellence in any of the departments of College instruction, an honorary appointment may be designated by the name of such department.

Those receiving honorary appointments will be placed at the close of divisions in alphabetical order.

These appointments shall be announced to the class in the fifth week of the third term of the Senior year, subject to change, if by taking into account the studies of the remainder of the third term of such year, the standing of the Student should on the whole, fall below or rise above the grade previously assigned to him.

7th. When the Student has no delinquent examinations, he can call upon the Registrar for his division standing for any College year, at the commencement of the succeeding year. His numerical standing will be given to him at the close of the third term of Senior year. No Student is recommended for a degree, whose final examination falls below the number four.

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS, AND OF GRADUATING.

The Public Exhibitions of the College are regulated by the following rules :

1st. Those who take part in these exhibitions are permitted to speak on such subjects as they may choose for themselves, with the advice and direction of the Professor of Rhetoric,

2d. No Student is permitted to appear in any public exhibition of his class, until after his exercise has been examined and approved by the Professor of Rhetoric.

3d. No Student is permitted to alter his exercise after it has been examined, or in any way to deviate from the corrections which have been made. A breach of this rule, if it occur at commencement, may be punished by withholding the diploma of graduation.

4th. The names of the speakers on Commencement day, shall be arranged on the principle heretofore indicated, in divisions of four. At Junior Exhibition, the names of the class shall be arranged alphabetically in divisions of like number, as far as may be, and a Committee of the Faculty shall be appointed to estimate and report the merit of the different speakers.

5th. No Student is permitted to take part in the exercises of Commencement day, who does not spend the third term of Senior year in College, and make his preparation here.

7th. To entitle a student to be graduated he must have spent two terms of Senior year in College, and have passed the final examination. He must also have paid his dues to the College Treasurer, and be personally present unless excused.

CHAPTER VII.

OF VACATIONS, AND OF ABSENCE FROM COLLEGE.

§ 1. There are three vacations each year. The length of these vacations will be found upon the yearly Catalogue.

§ 2. No under-graduate shall be allowed to remain in the College, during any of the vacations, without permission.

§ 3. Upon the expiration of any vacation, the Students are expected to réassemble at College. Absentees are required to give reasonable excuses for their delay.

§ 4. When a Student returns to College during the progress of the term, he is expected to report himself at once to the President or Class Officer. He is regarded from the time of his return, as in actual attendance, and as liable to be charged as other Students are. Nor can such Student omit to attend any one of the exercises without special permission.

§ 5. When a Student applies in advance to any College officer, for leave to be absent from any exercise, he will, if excused at all, be excused conditionally: that is, the Faculty may order the excuse to be canceled, if there appears to be good reason why such a course should be taken.

§ 6. When an excuse is offered for past absences, it must be presented in writing, and signed by the applicant, and must state fully and precisely, on what day, and in what week of the term, the absence occurred, from what exercises, and for what reason. The Student will also be expected to state with particularity, such circumstances as may tend to show the validity of the excuse. If this regulation be not observed, or there be good reason to believe that the excuse alleged is unfounded in fact, the proper charge will be made without further notice.

§ 7. The excuses should be handed to the Class Officer, on Tuesday of the College week in which the delinquency took place, or on the succeeding Tuesday. If a Student is in attendance, and does not present his excuse within the time above allowed, it cannot be offered afterwards.

§ 8. When a Student is absent from recitation, and has been excused, his absence shall be entered upon the merit roll as a failure, unless the omitted exercise be redeemed within two weeks after his return to College duties. The time may, for good reasons, be enlarged by a special vote of the Faculty. The delinquent will be expected to recite the omitted exercise, on the Monday next after the preparation is made, at such an hour as may be convenient to the officer who hears the recitation. When the Student is ready to recite such exercise, he must communicate that fact to the teacher, without waiting to be called upon.

§ 9. Four members only of any Society can be excused from College duties, to attend as delegates at Society meetings held at other places.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE LOCATION OF STUDENTS AND DAMAGES TO ROOMS, &C.

§ 1. On the last week of the third term, there shall be a general choice of rooms, under the direction of the Locating Officer. This choice shall be made in the order of the several classes, beginning with the Senior. The right of choice is determined by lot, and Students are required to draw lots in pairs.

§ 2. To all Students who enter College after this general choice, rooms shall be assigned by the Locating Officer.

§ 3. After rooms have once been chosen and assigned, there shall be no changes without the consent of the Locating Officer.

§ 4. The rooms are subject at all times, to be visited by any member of the Faculty, and may be entered by him at discretion.

§ 7. Whenever any damage is committed in any private room, the same shall be repaired at the expense of the occupants, unless they shall show good reasons why they should not be held responsible.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE PAYMENT OF BILLS.

It is provided by a resolution of the Board of Trustees :

1. That no student shall be permitted to enter on a second, or any succeeding term, until he shall have paid, or secured to the satisfaction of the Treasurer, the fees of the preceding Term.

2. That no Student can have an honorable dismissal from this College, or certificate of his previous attendance in it, until all his bills are paid or satisfactorily secured.

3. That in extreme cases, a Student whose circumstances render it necessary, and who shall present satisfactory testimonials of that fact to the Executive Committee, if he is a worthy member of College and his undergraduate course is completed in this Institution, can have his bills for tuition remitted. The application must be made in writing to the President at the opening of the term, and if approved by him, will be presented with the testimonials to the Executive Committee for their action.

§ 2. The Library shall be open for the delivery and return of books, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, during College terms, from 12 to 1 o'clock.

§ 3. The Trustees, Faculty, Graduates and Under-graduates of the College, shall be entitled to the use of the Library without expense.

When they amount to twenty, he shall be subject to a warning, and shall be called before the Faculty to show cause why it should not be given. Notice of every warning shall be transmitted to the parent or guardian. Successive warnings shall be given for every subsequent accumulation of ten marks during the same term. The same course may be taken, when in any case it appears that it is no longer useful for the Student to remain in College, or that his example has become injurious to his fellow Students, even though he be not guilty of any acts punishable by suspension.

HAMILTON COLLEGE

AND THE

SYNOD OF NEW YORK.

The attention of the ministers and members of the Presbyterian Churches and Congregations in the Synod of New York, is earnestly solicited to the following action of that body, taken during its session in Utica, October 20, 1882 :

ACTION OF SYNOD.

"The Synod of New York, at its first convention, calls the special attention of all its ministers, and the officers and members of all its Churches, to the relations of the Presbyterian Church to the cause of higher education. In the provisions we have made for the Christian education of our sons and daughters in the academy and college, we are behind the other great denominations with which we are accustomed to co-operate in Christian effort. For the special work of ministerial training, the appliances that we possess as a church put us in the very first rank. For that higher education which is not professional or ministerial, we are altogether in the rear.

The universities and colleges in this land that may in any sense be called Presbyterian, only number 13, and have an annual income of but $212,000. What are these in comparison of the 26 colleges connected with the Congregational Church, or the 31 connected with the Baptist Church, or the still larger number, 37, connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church? And in this neglect of higher education, the Presbyterian Church has been untrue both to her doctrine and history. Calvinism has always had a strong affinity with learning, and after the planting of Presbyterianism in the soil of this new continent, not more than two decades of years passed before it established for itself a college.

The recognition of our neglect as a Church of Christ, in these days of higher education, and the attempt which is now being made of stimulating inquiry and effort to remedy this defect, are among the most promising signs of the times. "In view of the patent fact," says our last general assembly, "that by the secularizing of academies and colleges the source of supply for our theological seminaries have been either vitiated or cut off, the assembly enjoin upon the Presbyterian Church and ministry the urgent duty of endowing and building up the Presbyterian academies and colleges already existing, and of wisely planting, endowing and fostering others as they become needed, in order to avert and make provisions against, the impending dearth of candidates for the ministry, and that the Presbyterian Church may overtake its sister churches in the work of Christian education, and regain the place of supremacy of which it is entitled, by its grand system of doctrine and its equally grand history."

Your committee, in quoting this action of the assembly, desire to add their full approval of all the sentiments it expresses, and also the hope that this Synod will make this action its own.

Your committee are also pleased to know that the assembly appointed upon this subject a special committee, and that its members were urged to give early and earnest attention to the important subject committed to their care. The college society, as it is called, among our Congregational brethren, fostering the feeble and struggling educational institutions of that faith in every part of the land, contributed during the past year very efficient aid to ten different colleges, and during the thirty-eight years of its existence, has brought up other institutions of learning to the point of entire self-support. The entire sum contributed by this Society to Collegiate education is $1,352,011.73. The number of Institutions aided is twenty-nine. Why may not our great Presbyterian Church institute a charity that in the same field will be equally efficient? The special recommendation on this subject that your Committee would make to the Synod, is as follows:

The six Synods into which the ministers and Churches of this State were formerly divided, and which by the Assembly's act of consolidation are now embraced in the Synod of New York, having all united in the earnest recommendation of Hamilton College, to the confidence and liberality of their churches in the effort to secure an addition to its endowment of $500,000, and upon that event to become more closely related to them, in accordance with an official act of its Board of Trustees, this Synod repeats and makes its own, those recommendations, and pleased to learn of the gratifying progress that has already been made in securing such an endowment, expresses its earnest desire and hope that the whole sum may be speedily realized.

And to this end the committee recommend that one minister and one elder, the elder to be appointed by the minister, from each of the Presbyteries connected with the Synod, be appointed to coöperate with the officers of the college, in their efforts to secure this endowment.

The Presbyterian Committee thus provided for shall be as follows :

Albany, John McC. Holmes, D. D.; Binghamton, G. P. Nichols, D.D.; Boston, C. C. Wallace, D. D.; Brooklyn, J. G. Butler, D.D.; Buffalo, R. S. Green; Cayuga, C. C. Hemenway; Champlain, C. S. Richardson; Chemung, C. C. Carr; Columbia, George A. Howard, D. D.; Genesee, C. H. Dibble; Genesee Valley, David Winters; Geneva, J. W. Jacks; Hudson, J. R. Lewis; Long Island, William H. Littell; Lyons, W. H. Bates; Nassau, L. Lampman; New York, Howard Crosby, D. D. LL. D.; Niagara, J. S. Bacon; North River, Francis B. Wheeler, D. D.; Otsego, H. W. Swinerton, Ph. D.; Rochester, C. E. Robinson, D. D.; St. Lawrence, L. M. Miller, D. D.; Steuben, J. M. Platt; Syracuse, H. H. Stebbins; Troy, Stephen Bush, D. D.; Utica, Thomas J. Brown, D. D.; Westchester, Nelson Phraner, D. D.

At any joint meeting of these Presbyterian Committees that may be called, eleven shall be a quorum, competent to transact all business pertaining to their appointment."

ADDITIONAL RESOLUTION.

To this action of the Synod, reported by its Standing Committee on Education, the Synod unanimously added, as an earnest and spontaneous expression of its deep interest on this subject, the following resolution :

Resolved, That all the ministers of this Synod be requested to present the interests of Hamilton College to their respective congregations on the first Sabbath after the day of prayer for colleges, and take a special collection in its behalf.

HISTORY OF THE MOVEMENT.

That the meaning of this action, and its historical reference may be understood, the following brief statement is subjoined :

A conference of Christian gentlemen, to consider the relations of the Presbyterian Church to " Higher and especially to Collegiate Education," was held in the City of Utica, on the 31st of March, 1879.

The conference was one of deep interest, and resulted in the appointing of a Committee to call a more general meeting, to be held in Syracuse, on the 21st and 22d of April.

At this meeting, after much discussion and deliberation, it was thought that the end so much desired, could better be accomplished by the utilizing of some existing collegiate institution, than by the establishment of a new one ; and hence it was Resolved, 1. That the Board of Trustees of Hamilton College at Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., be respectfully requested to consider the practicability of such a change in the charter of the College, whether by a provision which shall empower the Synods to fill vacancies in the Board as fast as they may occur, until two-thirds of the Board are made to represent, and thereafter to continue to represent, the Synods ; or, by some other provision which shall more clearly identify the institution with the Presbyterian Church, and render endowments made in the interests of said church inalienable ; and, if found practicable, that such change be secured by application to the Regents of the University.

Resolved, 2. That in the event of such a change in the charter as is contemplated in the above resolution, an effort be immediately inaugurated by our ministers and churches, to raise Five Hundred Thousand Dollars for Hamilton College.

Resolved, 3. That the Rev. Dr. Darling, of Albany, and the Rev. Dr. Johnson, of Auburn, be a Committee to bring this matter before the Trustees of Hamilton College, at their next meeting.
